T4R chair - why involvement is important

"saha's strategic focus is on Transforming Lives. The organisation tries to do this through meeting, amongst other things, the physical and mental needs of individuals. In my case this means that, as an older single person, I am able to reside in an affordable home where I feel safe and valued. In addition I am encouraged to get involved in activities that enable me to 'have a say' in issues that affect me and other residents. Being part of the saha family has certainly transformed my life"..
